COREY'S BLUFF

ROCKFORD, ILLINOIS

INTRODUCTION

We have collected Irises since 1914, and published our first catalogue in 1930. Results for the past two seasons were most gratifying. We sent Iris roots as far east as Maine; west, Oregon; south, Dallas, Texas; north, Duluth, Minn. Many were the words of commendation on the quality of roots sent out. We received many trial orders, followed by additional orders.

Knowing from past experience the quality of roots we like to receive we aim to give our customers just that kind and better.

We have so many fine qualities now at such nominal prices that they should be passed on.

PLANTING DIRECTIONS

August and September are the best months to plant Iris, if strong plants are used and planted in these months they usually throw one bloom stock the following season.

Drainage is absolutely necessary to be successful with Iris, that is raise your bed a trifle so water will not stand where Iris are planted.

Iris grow easier and multiply faster than any other perennial. When planting loosen soil thoroughly, put roots of plant in hole, cover with soil, press firmly over root, before filling hole with balance of soil, pour on water, let stand a few minutes, before placing remainder of dirt around plant. The rhizome should be barely covered, the top should not have more than one-quarter inch of soil over it. Do not water thereafter.

First winter after planting it is well to cover lightly with leaves or straw after ground is frozen. In early spring it is well to see that this has not been removed. If so, replace because if any harm is done it will be at this time when it freezes and thaws, the covering will prevent heaving of your plants. Covering of plants will not be necessary the following years.

Remove covering after spring has advanced and plants show signs of new growth.

CULTIVATION

Like most plants Iris do better when cultivated several times during season. Care must be taken not to disturb roots. Many of these are close to top of soil. Loosen soil not too deep around plants.

Bone meals as a fertilizer worked in soil early in fall can be recommended. Wood or coal ashes are beneficial.

RATING—The numbers preceding the name of a variety are the ratings of the American Iris Society, Symposium of 1928. First number, exhibition; Second number, Garden score. Other varieties have not yet been voted on. Following the name, in parenthesis, is the name of the Originator and year introduced. Those abbreviated as follows: Andr., Andrews; Burch., Burchfield; Cay., Cayeux; Den., Dennis; G. & K., Goss & Koenemann; Ken., Kennicott; Pres., Presby; Koeh., Koehler; Mill., Millet; Mor., Morrison; Sturt., Sturtevant; Verd., Verdier; Will., Williamson; Vil., Vilmorin.

TIME OF SHIPMENT—Irises will be shipped from the latter part of July until the 15th of September.

S. refers to the 3 upright petals (Standards). F. the three drooping petals (Falls).

SUBSTITUTES—If any varieties you have ordered are sold out something as good or better will be substituted if you request. Otherwise your money will be returned. Postgae will be prepaid on all orders amounting to $1.50. On orders less than $1.50, add 25c. Postage or express prepaid on large orders.
